The Recruiting Process Unveiled: Strategies to Crack the Code and Succeed in Your Application

Anne Gebhardt & Fabiana Decortes

This talk provides practical strategies for students looking to enhance their application success. Our speakers draw on real-world insights to examine the critical components prior and within the recruiting process. The objective is to offer a clear understanding and provide a framework for students to navigate the complexities inherent in job applications. Additionally, this talk serves as an opportunity to address any questions you may have always wanted to ask an HR expert.

Anne is a passionate leader in the field of Human Resources, transformation, and organizational development. Over her 18-year career within Bosch, she has worked internationally across various business divisions and leadership positions, dedicating 10 years to operational Human Resources and 8 years to Business Transformations. In her current role, she leads the HR community for Bosch Digital, overseeing its global team of over 11,500 digital talents worldwide.

Fabiana, leveraging nine years of HR experience across diverse business areas at Bosch, channels her passion for employer branding and digitalization. Leading Bosch Digital's Employer of Choice team, she shapes the organization's identity, attracts digital talents across the globe, and ensures their optimal experience at Bosch Digital.

From insight to impact.
